all about boutique markets

Are you considering holding a stall at Boutique Markets?

If the answer is yes, then it's a really good idea to start by reading this document. It answers all our most frequently asked questions, and provides a good overview of what Boutique Markets is all about.

Following, you will find these sections:

- 1) About Boutique Markets – this explains what our Market is all about, and how it could benefit your business.
- 2) Products we love – is your product range the right fit for Boutique Markets?.
- 3) The cost - What it costs to sell your range at Boutique Markets, and what this outlay includes.
- 4) How to apply – now that you know all about us, here's what you have to do to perhaps be part of it!
- 5) 2014 dates & locations – up-to-date details on when and where to find our upcoming Markets.

1) About Boutique Markets

Boutique Markets showcases and sells beautiful handcrafted or manufactured products from independent artists, crafters and designers..

Our Markets are held regularly in Sydney, Melbourne, Brisbane, Perth, Adelaide, Canberra and Hobart and in 2012 we expanded to include the following regional centres – Launceston, Geelong, Newcastle, Townsville and Toowoomba.

We carefully handpick our stallholders to bring our shoppers the most divine and original clothing, accessories and homewares. They are lovingly made by some of Australia's most talented crafters and designers – many of them parents themselves.

It's a shopper's heaven for those who want to stylishly dress their families or decorate their home environment, but don't want to buy mass produced, chain store items.

Boutique Markets offers the funkiest and most gorgeous of items including homewares, clothing and accessories, art and photography, gourmet food... and so much more!

Boutique Markets offers potential stallholders many exciting business opportunities, the most obvious being the chance to sell your products (of course!). However, holding a stall at Boutique Markets is also an extremely effective way of increasing your brand awareness by connecting you with your target buying audience – both directly on the day, and via our promotional activity (more about that below).

It could also lead to other amazing developments: many of our stallholders have been “discovered” at Boutique Markets by browsing retailers, who then go on to stock their range. Others have formed important industry contacts.

One important thing we do is to feature links to stallholders' websites. Our stallholders have confirmed this has a very positive impact on their website traffic, enquiries and sales.

2) Products we love

Do your products meet the criteria outlined below?

If so, we'd love you to apply to set up shop at Boutique Markets.

We're always on the lookout for:

- High quality products. This is paramount, as we have a reputation for showcasing and selling high quality items.
- Our shoppers adore products that are just that little bit different from the norm. Traditional goods are most welcome at Boutique Markets, but we want them to have a unique look, feel, feature or twist! We love the sort of goodies that can't be found in mainstream stores (it's still fine if you already sell in some boutiques or online retailers). We want our shoppers to be excited, amused, delighted, enchanted and inspired by the products on offer.
- We look for a high level of creativity and welcome the creations of designers, retailers, artists, etc.
- The products we sell do not have to be handmade, however because we value uniqueness so highly, we do favour this. We also welcome products that are manufactured, however we are not likely to accept goods that are available in mass in main shopping centres or retail stores.
- Visual merchandising is very important! Stallholders must be able to attractively decorate their stall at Boutique Markets, and create a warm and inviting atmosphere on the day.
- While it is not mandatory, we prefer our stallholders to have a website. This is because our shoppers undertake a considerable amount of pre & post market shopping online, and like to be informed about what they're buying.

3) The cost

Boutique Markets is very different from a typical weekend Market, and this is reflected in our fee structure. As a stallholder, you don't just receive a table on the day ... you get much more!

The cost of booking a stall ranges from $99 to $220 depending on the events location.

Capital Cities

Sydney - $220

Brisbane - $220

Melbourne - $220

Perth - $220

Canberra - $150

Adelaide - $150

Hobart - $150

Regional Cities

Townsville - $150

Toowoomba - $150

Geelong - $150

Newcastle - $150

Launceston - $99

This represents great value for money – here's why: Our small and dedicated team of marketing, PR and event professionals work tirelessly to make every Boutique Markets a success. We are constantly devising, implementing and fine tuning our market day plan, and advertising and communications strategy to ensure big crowds turn up to purchase the wares of our stallholders.

Here's what you can expect by participating at Boutique Markets:

- Listing of your business on our website: Stallholders report that they consistently receive strong traffic to their website both before and after their appearance at Boutique Markets, as a result of us listing their business name and website address at www.boutiquemarkets.com.au. Boutique Markets devotees are savvy, well informed and prepared. They love to check out our website to take sneak peeks of what to stock up on and keep an eye out for. And even if they can't make it to our Market, they love a spot of shopping at the online stores of our stallholders.

- eNewsletter: We have 50,000 subscribers to our eNewsletter, in which we regularly feature some of our stallholders. This offers fantastic exposure and association with a very well respected and much loved brand.
- Blog: In our blog called Boutique Markets, we chat about Boutique Markets stallholders, their products and share the good news on businesses that are just too wonderful to keep a secret. The popularity of our blog is growing: why not have a read <http://boutiquemarkets.blogspot.com/>.
- Media: Our PR campaign runs 365 days a year, so that as many members of the public as possible know about Boutique Markets!

We often feature a handful of stallholders in our media releases, which are submitted to a wide range of media outlets including major metro and local newspapers, newspaper weekend supplements, monthly parenting and lifestyle magazines, websites, etc. We garner great coverage with the media and we've given many small businesses a huge boost by organising stories mentioning them in a major outlet.

- Advertising: We regularly place FULL PAGE ads in House and Garden, Real Living, Shop4Kids, etc. In addition we conduct very targeted marketing campaigns on websites (on blogs, forums, etc) which appeal to the Boutique Markets demographic. Such advertising campaigns are highly successful but very expensive. It's necessary for us to factor in this cost when determining our booking fees.
- Flyers: We also distribute about 300,000 flyers to kinders, crèches and childcare centres, as well as at our sister event, Mathilda's Market, nationally. throughout the year.
- Exposure to potential retail stockists: We often have retail store owners and managers visiting our Markets, on the hunt for the latest and greatest products. The business expansion possibilities for you are exciting indeed!

- Your table size is 2ft x 6ft, and there is approximately 30cm on either side for racks or stands. (More details are provided closer to your Market date). Please note: we are not an exhibition; therefore we can't provide dividers or exact stand or floor measurements.
- Public liability insurance: is included when you book your stall.
- Market check list: We provide you with a comprehensive Market checklist and do's & don'ts for Market day

Our conditions at a glance:

- Please make your decision to book your stall with us carefully. It is our policy that we will refund 50% of the booking cost if you cancel your booking more than 4 weeks prior to the date of your Market. Cancellations within 4 weeks of your Market date are non refundable.
- Stallholders are only allowed to sell those products listed on their application form.
- Stallholders are responsible for the security of their own products.
- Stallholders give us permission to use their images, business name & website text for our promotional material and media releases
- If there is any damage to the venue whatsoever (i.e. scratching of floors or paint off wall) due to the stallholder's negligence, please be aware that any associated costs invoiced to us by the venue are payable by the stallholder at fault.

IMPORTANT: Please note that we don't necessarily offer consecutive Market participation for stallholders, for the simple reason that our shoppers want to see variety and new creations. We are only able to offer consecutive participation if stallholders take part in Markets in different cities (eg. Boutique Markets in Melbourne in March, and then in July Sydney).
